AMD affects 1 in 8 over age 60

Schedule an AdaptDx test today!

AdaptDx®

Age-related macular degeneration (AMD) is a progressive eye disease and the leading cause of adult vision loss.

Are you over the age of 50?

Do you have problems seeing at night?

If so, you should get tested for AMD.

Call us at _____ to schedule an AdaptDx test.

"We are very excited to be one of the first practices to offer this state-of-the-art technology to help identify AMD at its earliest stages and help our patients take action to preserve their vision. I recommend the AdaptDx test to everyone over age 50."